WASHINGTON (AP)—A proposal to punish Mississippi segregationists by denying federal funds to the state has touched off a new flareup in Congress over civil rights.

President Kennedy maintained silence on a recommendation by the Civil Rights Commission that he look into his legal authority to cut off funds to counter what the group said was "open and flagrant violation of constitutional guarantees" of Negro citizens seeking to vote in Mississippi.

There was no indication the President planned any action toward carrying out such a proposal which would be hailed by minority voters in the large industrial states but would be certain to stir resentment among white voters in the South.

Nevertheless Southern senators erupted with bitter condemnation of the suggestion while civil rights advocates of both parties praised it.

This revival of controversy seemed likely to make it more difficult for administration leaders to get congressional approval of Kennedy's recommendation for a four-year extension of life for the commission and a broadening of its authority. Unless Congress acts before then, the commission would go out of existence in November.

There already is general recognition that the commission matter is the only civil rights issue likely to be pushed to a vote this year. Otherwise, Kennedy's program in this field probably will await election year consideration.

Chairman James O. Eastland, D-Miss., of the Senate Judiciary Committee which passes on all civil rights proposals, called the commission's recommendation for cutting off payments on highways, flood control, military contracts and other U.S.-aided programs "preposterous."

He said the President doesn't have "any color of authority" to carry it out.

Agreeing, Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., said he couldn't conceive of Congress giving any serious consideration to the commission's recommendation that legislation be passed to carry out its suggestion.

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—A $10,793,596 contract for construction of a spillway and dam embankment at Millwood Reservoir on Little River in Arkansas has been awarded to two Oklahoma firms, Army Engineers said today.

Winning bidders were Williams Brothers Co. and Cimarron Construction Co., both of Edmond. The reservoir project is in southwest Arkansas.

Spectacular Escape Made by E. Red

By JOHN O. KOEHLER

BERLIN (AP)—An East German youth who smashed through Berlin's Red wall in an East German army armored car Wednesday night was reported in satisfactory condition today despite a bullet wound in his chest.

A doctor said if everything goes well, he will be out of the hospital in three weeks.

Wolfgang Engels, 19, suffered wounds in his chest and hand and multiple cuts and abrasions.

His daring escape was the talk of West Berlin today.

Engels took the Soviet-made armored car out of the East German army garage where he worked as a civilian mechanic.

Shortly before 8 o'clock Wednesday night, he careened down the east side of Elisenstrasse toward the wall, shouting, "I am going over! Who wants to go with me?"

Communist border guards fired their weapons as the nine-gun vehicle plowed into the first concrete barrier. The impact sprung the rear armor-plated doors and two bullets hit Engels.

The car got stuck in the second wall, which forms the border with West Berlin.

Unable to crawl through the hole because the car was blocking it, the wounded youth climbed atop the seven-foot wall, shouting for help.

As the East Berlin guards kept firing, the youth got tangled in the barbed wire atop the wall, then pitched forward and hit the sidewalk in the West Berlin district of Neukölln, in the American sector.

A lone West Berlin policeman, on patrol near the scene, fired several shots into the East sector in an attempt to give the youth cover. The officer was slightly injured by concrete fragments splintered off the wall by the East German bullets.

Angry West Berliners were held back from the wall by West Berlin police. Many shouted "Pigs!" and "Murderers!" as the East German guards pulled the armored car out of the debris.

Discovery Significant in Cancer

By JOHN BARBOUR
Associated Press Science Writer

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—There is a mysterious something in the laboratory flasks of Dr. Jorgen Fogh which somehow slows and inhibits the growth of human cancer cells.

Remarkably, the substance does not interfere with human cells grown in laboratory flasks.

Still more remarkable, it doesn't bother normal cells even when used in solutions 10,000 times as strong as those which hamper cancer growth.

Studies have continued to find out what the something is, and how it works, but it has eluded evaluation so far, Fogh told a meeting Wednesday of the Federation of American Societies for Experimental Biology.

Fogh came on the phenomenon while working with mixtures of colonies of cancer cells and normal cells taken from humans.

Cloud Mass Over Most of State

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Clouds massed ominously over Arkansas today, threatening the state with showers and thunderstorms.

A weak cold front was expected to push through the state Friday, bringing more scattered showers and thunderstorms.

Southerly winds of 15 to 25 miles an hour were sweeping the state today.

The forecast called for partly cloudy to cloudy through Friday with showers and thundershowers beginning in the west this afternoon and moving across the state tonight and Friday.

Highs of 76 to 88 were predicted for this afternoon with lows in the 60s expected tonight.

Friday's weather was expected to be a little cooler.

Overnight lows reported around the state this morning ranged from the low to the high 60s. No rainfall was reported in the state during the 24-hour period ending at 6 a.m.

Storms Across the Nation Diminish

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Storms diminished across the Midwest today after destructive tornadoes and damaging thunderstorms ripped across areas in Illinois, Indiana and Michigan. One person was killed, scores were injured and property damage was extensive. Some 200 persons were made temporarily homeless.

The hardest hit region was in the area of Kankakee, Ill., a city of some 28,000 about 45 miles south of Chicago. A tornado cut a path 300 yards wide and 3 miles long, first striking on the edge of Kankakee and skipping into nearby Bourbonnais and five other communities.

Bourbonnais, a community of 3,335, suffered the heaviest property damage, estimated at $2 million by Leon Blandete, village president. Sandra Rivard, 24, was killed as she fled from her home with her three-month old daughter.

The infant and some 60 other persons in the area were injured, were forced from their wrecked and damaged homes. The storm caused extensive damage to buildings on the campus of Olivet College.

The twister moved eastward into northern Indiana, across northern Jasper County, injuring 18 persons and causing an estimated $300,000 damage to property. Three of the injured were reported in critical condition. All of the injured live near Gifford, 10 miles northeast of Rensselaer.

Lesser damage from wind storms were reported in Monroe County, Mich., where electricity was cut off to about 1,000 homes. Tornado winds hit near Coldwater, overturning a trailer and seriously injuring the only occupant, Asa E. Weaver, 86.

The violent weather was caused by the clash of warm moist air from the Gulf and the cool air moving south from Canada.

Near blizzard conditions were reported in Flagstaff, Ariz., with strong winds, snow, and temperatures in the 20s. The snow spread into parts of Utah, Idaho, Colorado and Wyoming.

Light rain fell during the night and early morning along a warm front from the Lower Great Lakes region to southern New England. Generally fair weather prevailed in the Southeast, the northern Plains and the Upper Mississippi Valley.

Outside the cold spots in the West, temperatures ranged from the 30s across northern areas from the Rockies to the Midwest to the 40s along the North Atlantic Coast states and the Pacific Coast. Readings in the 70s extended from Texas northeastward into the Ohio Valley and in southern Florida. They were in the 60s in most of the middle and southern Atlantic Coast region, the Middle Mississippi Valley, central Plains and the southern Rockies.

NLB Hearing

WASHINGTON (AP)—National Labor Relations Board trial examiner Alba Martin recommended Wednesday that the Little Rock Downtown Motel be cited for unfair labor practices. Martin said the firm had sought to "coerce, restrain, interfere with, threaten and generally discourage" employees in relations with the Hotel and Restaurant Employees and Bartenders International Union in the summer and fall of 1962.

Local Citizens to Select Most Popular and Congenial Business Representative

Both Parties Took Money From Lobbyist

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Foreign Relations Committee released testimony today that a Washington lobbyist for Philippine sugar interests purchased $8,600 in cashier checks in 1960 for political contributions to candidates for both parties.

The disclosure was made at a public hearing at which Chairman J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., also produced a series of documents detailing years of lobbying activity by John A. O'Donnell in behalf of the $73-million Philippine war damage claims bill which Congress finally enacted last year.

One document purported to show that campaign contributions to friendly candidates for Congress were made with cashier checks purchased from the Union Trust Co. of Washington Oct. 12, 1960 from an $18,000 fund supplied by O'Donnell's Philippine clients.

O'Donnell was questioned by the Senate committee in a secret session March 1. A lawyer, he is a registered agent for the Philippine Sugar Association.

Among his purported campaign contributions was one of $2,000 to Rep. Clement J. Zablocki, D-Wis., who introduced the war claims damage bill in the House.

Another was one of $1,000 to Edward McCormack, nephew of

Machinists Hopeful for Settlement

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP)—Machinists union officials here sounded a cautious note of optimism today in their hopes for a new contract agreement with the Boeing Co., but admitted the final outcome rested upon a vote by Wichita, Kan., members.

Union workers at the big aerospace firm's installation at Cape Canaveral, Fla., set up picket lines after rejecting the proposal Wednesday. A spokesman said the lines would remain until the Wichita Vote was taken and tabulated Friday.

Seattle area employees voted 7,892 to 4,298 in favor of acceptance Wednesday and unofficial returns from other smaller, scattered Boeing operations raised the total to 8,315 yes and 4,953 no.

But at Wichita, where about 4,000 of the union's approximately 26,000 total membership is centered, workers adjourned their meeting before a vote was taken. Machinists officials quickly rescheduled the voting.

However, it would take nearly 100 per cent rejection at Wichita to offset the favorable vote here.

The agreement, hammered out in last-ditch talks just before a scheduled strike Monday, includes the same 22 to 33 cents an hour basic wage hikes over a three-year period which were rejected earlier.

One of the stumbling blocks was the machinists' demand for a union shop. The new contract still does not provide for it.

Rioting Makes No Difference, You Can't Paddle Students in Corrupt Washington Schools

WASHINGTON (AP)—The ban on paddling of students stays in force in District of Columbia schools under a 5-4 vote taken by the school board after heated debate on a corporal punishment proposal by Supt. Carl F. Hanson.

The board in a long session Wednesday did, however, go along with Hanson's disciplinary suggestions to the extent of voting for indefinite suspension of unruly pupils. But that has to lie over until the May meeting, awaiting a ruling on how it squares with the capital's laws.

Who is Hope's most popular and congenial business representative? The one selected will receive a nice cash prize for just being himself.

In fact, there will be three prizes for the most congenial business people — $50 first, $30 second and $20 third prize money for those lucky persons selected by the readers of the Hope Star.

And Star readers will be given an opportunity to share in another $50 cash award for just identifying local business representatives from the various business places.

The most popular and congenial persons may be a business man, professional woman, or employee. At the present, about 25 Hope businesses have entered their employees in the contest, which will end next month.

Sometime during the month of May, a full page of pictures — over 100 — will be printed in the Star, featuring local business men, professional women and employees in several local businesses.

During the month of May, other such pages will be printed and readers wishing to share in the $50 cash prize and to nominate their choice for the most congenial business person, will have the opportunity to do so.

The three readers who identify the most pictures in all of the full-page features will share in the cash award.

Dick Mayo, chief "caricaturist," is now in Hope laying the groundwork for the amusing feature.

At 35, She Seems to Look Well

NEW YORK (AP)—"So at 35 do I look like an old bag?" Asking the question Wednesday was an American Airlines stewardess, Dusty Roads, 5 feet 8, shapely—36-24-36 — weighing 125 pounds, and a natural blonde.

The stewardesses at American are fighting the clause in the union contract which stipulates that the girls must resign at age 32. Miss Roads is exempt because the age embargo went into effect Dec. 1, 1953—and Dusty was flying for American before that.

The union's contract expired last June and negotiations have failed to bring agreement on a new pact. The age clause is a key issue.

A company spokesman said 10 of the airline's 1,500 stewardesses are approaching the 32-mark this year.

Nancy Collins, master executive chairman of the American Airlines unit of the Airlines Stewardesses and Stewardesses Association of the AFL-CIO Transport Workers Union, says that isn't so. She contends the number of almost 32 is nearer 100.

The American spokesman said that being a stewardess is a younger girl's type of job.

The girls said they have slogan for their fight:

"Too old to fly—too young for Social Security."

DIERSK, Ark., (AP)—Dierks Inc. employees voted 278 to 148 Wednesday against representation by the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners. Both logging employees and plant workers voted in the election, conducted by the National Labor Relations Board.

The selective increases this year left some questions that divided close observers and might take a long time to answer conclusively.

Will prices of steel-made consumer goods rise appreciably? How, if at all, will the results affect wage-price stability, a key administration goal with ramifications for the entire economy?

Frederick Kappel, board chairman of the giant American Telephone and Telegraph Co., made clear Wednesday that he doesn't share the President's concern in this area.

The boosts "may be a blessing in disguise to the economy," Kappel told the AT&T annual meeting.

The executive, who also is chairman of the Business Council, a sort of Who's Who of industry, said he thought Kennedy's standaside role of recent days bolstered business confidence.

Charges Soviet Troops Are Not Leaving Cuba

By STERLING F. GREEN

WASHINGTON (AP)—In a direct challenge of President Kennedy's reassurances on Soviet troop withdrawals, Sen. Kenneth B. Keating charged today there has been "no substantial reduction" of Soviet military forces in Cuba since mid-November.

Keating, a New York Republican, said in a speech prepared for the American Society of Newspaper Editors that he has information that new Soviet arrivals have about matched the departures.

"There were and are in the neighborhood of 17,000 men there," said the senator. "No functional units have been withdrawn."

Kennedy, who will address the editors' annual meeting Friday, told his April 3 news conference that some 4,000 Soviet troops had left in the preceding month, in addition to the 5,000 pulled out in November.

At the height of last fall's crisis over Soviet missile bases in Cuba, there were an estimated 21,000 to 22,000 Soviet troops on the island. So the President's report indicated a remaining total of only 12,000 or 13,000.

Keating—resuming with relish his role as a foremost Republican critic of Kennedy's Cuban policies—drew afresh on the undisclosed intelligence sources with which he has been challenging the administration for months.

Steel Price Change in Mop-up Stage

By ROGER LANE

AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The steel industry was in the mop-up stage today of its first successful drive for a significant price increase since 1958.

All but a comparative handful of steel firms had posted mark-ups, mostly averaging three per cent or less, on a narrow range of big-tonnage products. The rear guard was falling in line rapidly.

There was still no direct word on their actions from President Kennedy beyond qualified recognition a week ago that some boosts probably were justifiable and a caution to steelmen against going too far.

However, the President kept in close touch throughout. He was expected to be drawn out on his views in an appearance Friday before the American Society of Newspaper Editors.

The character and handling of the pricing move contrasted markedly with an abortive effort a year ago or an across-the-board increase.

It took eight days for the initial price rise, by Wheeling Steel Corp., to spread somewhat unevenly through the industry. The pitched battle of April 1962 over across-the-board increases ended in a roll-back within 72 hours.

The selective increases this year left some questions that divided close observers and might take a long time to answer conclusively.

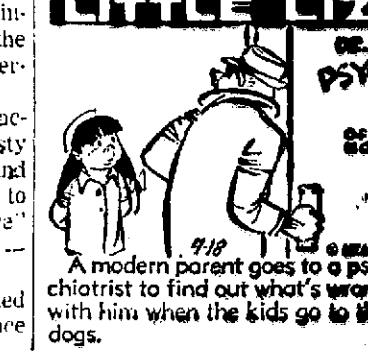

Will prices of steel-made consumer goods rise appreciably? How, if at all, will the results affect wage-price stability, a key administration goal with ramifications for the entire economy?

Pro Football Slams Door on Benched Stars

By WILL GRIMSLEY

Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—Professional football on both sides of the border slammed its doors today on two suspended stars of the National Football League and rallied behind NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle in his smashing blow at gambling influences.

A penitent Paul Hornung and an outraged Alex Karras, two of the sport's biggest names caught in the web of the latest sports scandal, apparently were left with no recourse except possible future forgiveness of the league—not earlier than 1964.

The rival American League, battling the NFL for the spectator dollar, and the Canadian League, a refuge for ousted American players in the past, said they have no place for the two players accused of wagering on games.

"Under no circumstances will they be permitted to play in the American Football League until their suspensions are lifted," Joe Foss, commissioner of the AFL, said in a formal statement in Dallas.

Sidney Halter, commissioner of the Canadian League, said: "I would refuse to register any contract submitted by a CFL club with a player suspended by an American league for betting on games."

Hornung, halfback and frequent scoring leader of the champion Green Bay Packers, and Karras, 260-pound tackle of the Detroit Lions, drew indefinite suspensions Wednesday in a sweeping action by Rozelle that also resulted in fines for five other Detroit players and a $4,000 penalty against the Detroit club.

Hornung and Karras were accused of making bets on games, usually in the $50 to $200 range, over a period of years. The commissioner said there was no evidence of any so-called "fixes." That is, they were not found to have bet against their own club, sold information to gamblers or shaved points.

The other five players, each fined $2,000 for betting $50 apiece on Green Bay to beat the New York Giants in the 1962 playoff game, were: John Gordy, guard; Gary Lowe, defensive back; Joe Schmidt, all-league middle line-backer; Wayne Walker, line-backer, and Sam Williams, defensive end, all of the Lions.

Detroit was fined for failing to take proper action on undesirable associations reported by police.

Rozelle, in announcing the result of extensive investigations which included 52 separate inter-

Travs Quickly Jump Ahead With 2 Wins

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Arkansas Travelers own a 2-0 season record and pitcher John Boozler the first International League shutout of the season. Boozler held Rochester to two hits in a 5-0 decision Wednesday night.

In other games in the league Atlanta edged Syracuse 4-3, Jacksonville topped Toronto 3-1, Richmond whipped Columbus 11-0 and Buffalo fanned Indianapolis 6-1.

Boozler tossed 11 Red Wings in gaining his shutout. Nobody got a base on balls.

Boozler yielded a single to Sam Bowens with one out in the fourth inning—the only hit he allowed after Ken Hamlin banged out a double in the first.

Richie Allen and Cal Emery fired off singles for the Travelers and Jim Woods backed them with a triple for a 3-0 first-inning lead.

The Travelers picked up the remaining runs in the fifth when Boozler singled, John Upham doubled and the two scored on a wild pitch by losing pitcher John Miller.

Views, emphasized "there is no evidence that any NFL player has given less than his best in playing any game."

He made it clear, however, that he will not tolerate gambling of any sort in the league nor permit association of players with characters who might create public suspicion. In this stand, he had virtually the unanimous support of the league directors, his bosses.

Hornung, 27, a handsome bachelor who might double as a matinee idol, was subdued and humble when he received the news at his home in Louisville.

"I did wrong," he said. "I should be penalized. I just have to stay with it."

He said he does not plan an appeal from the suspension. He indicated he will work toward a review of his case and ultimate reinstatement—which isn't possible, Rozelle said, before next year.

The former Notre Dame star, leading scorer in the NFL in 1959, 1960 and 1961 and most valuable player in 1961, said all his bets were of the sociable variety.

"They were made with friends, strictly sporting," he added. "I always gave 100 per cent of every game I played in." He said he probably made eight or nine bets, $100 and $200 each.

Rozelle said Hornung's betting habits stemmed from his acquaintance with a West Coast businessman, whom Hornung met in 1956 in San Francisco. Investigation showed Hornung placed several bets through this friend, the commissioner added, saying in one year the triple threat halfback made $1,500.

Lee Hurls Four Hitter, Shuts Out Ex-Mates

By MIKE RATHET

Associated Press Sports Writer
Don Lee, Los Angeles' pitching professor, seems just about ready to teach American League batters a thing or two about the art of hurling.

The right-hander turned in a three-hit, 4-0 shutout against his former Minnesota teammates Wednesday.

Lee, 29, was a slightly confused young man when he came to the Angels last May in a trade for pitcher Jim Donohue. The Twins had "tried to change my delivery," says Lee, who admits "I didn't feel settled until I got with the Angels."

Against the Twins Lee struck out three while walking only one and was touched only for three singles—by Bernie Allen in the third inning, Vic Power in the fourth and Lenny Green in the ninth. Not a base runner reached third.

Gus Triandos, obtained from Baltimore, drove in three runs with a tie-breaking homer and a double as Detroit took over first place by whipping the New York Yankees 4-2. Johnny Orsino, Al Smith and Stu Miller led Baltimore to a 5-4 triumph over Boston.

The Washington-Cleveland game was rained out. Kansas City and the Chicago White Sox were not scheduled.

In the National League, Milwaukee moved into first place with a 6-5 triumph over Philadelphia. Houston edged San Francisco 2-1 in 13 innings, the Los Angeles Dodgers nipped the Chicago Cubs 1-0 in 10 innings, Cincinnati shut out the New York Mets 5-0 and St. Louis defeated Pittsburgh 7-3.

Triandos snapped a 1-1 tie with a homer off loser Ralph Terry in the seventh inning. The Tigers had just tied it on a double by er and a long sacrifice fly by Allen.

The game drew 2,169 persons, compared to 6,966 on opening night Monday.

The Travelers meet Syracuse at Little Rock tonight.

Buffalo and Columbus expect huge turnouts tonight for their International League home openers while Atlanta, Jacksonville and Little Rock eagerly await some more of that good home cooking.

With good weather, Buffalo officials hoped to approach the 1962 opening crowd of 20,238. The forecast, however, was for cool weather and some rain. The Bisons meet the Richmond Vees. Columbus made plans for its usual sell-out crowd of 12,000 for the home opener with Indianapolis.

Toronto moves into Atlanta tonight and Rochester goes to Jacksonville.

Horners accounted for all of the scoring as defending champion Jacksonville made it two in a row over 1962 runnerup Toronto. A two-run homer by first baseman Buddy Barker, his second in two nights, staked the sums to a 2-0 lead. The teams exchanged bases-empty homers in the fifth. Rico Carty averted a Toronto shutout by slamming a George Maranda pitch 385 feet in the top of the fifth, and Tony Washington matched this for Jacksonville in the home half.

Bob Schmidt limited Indianapolis to four hits for Buffalo and contributed a double to the Bisons' 10-hit attack that produced six runs off three Indian hurlers. Phil Barth slugged a two-run homer for Buffalo. Gene Leek's double and a single by Don Buford accounted for the lone Indianapolis run in the fifth inning.

Syracuse's Leo Marentette, pitching in relief of Willie Smith, retired Atlanta sluggers John Glenn and Jeoff Long with the bases loaded in the last of the ninth but suddenly lost control and walked in the winning Cracker run on four consecutive wide pitches. The victory was Atlanta's fifth in a row by a one-run margin in championship play, counting three straight 2-1 triumphs last year over Louisville in the Little World Series.

Make Gibbs drove in four runs for Richmond on a pair of doubles, and relief pitcher Joe McClain doused a Columbus rally in the ninth inning for Richmond's close victory over the Jets.

McClain checked Columbus on five hits over the last five innings and was rewarded with the victory. The Virginians and the Jets accounted for 20 runs in the first five innings of the loosely played game.

NOTICE TO BIDDERS
Sealed proposals addressed to the City of Hope, c/o G. G. Medders, City Manager, will be received at the office of the City Clerk, City of Hope, Hempstead County, Arkansas, until 2:30 p.m. on the 25th day of April, 1963, for furnishing the following described equipment:

2 each — 4-door sedan automobiles specially equipped for police urban patrol and cruising to include such items of heavy-duty equipment as recommended by major manufacturers of medium-duty police patrol cars including standard transmission, heavy-duty battery, and alternating current generator. Cars are to be equipped with heaters and two-speed windshield wipers with washer attachment.

Bidders are advised that a part of the consideration will be the taking in trade of two 1962 model sedans now in use by the Police Department. The cars can be inspected by contacting the Police Department.

All bids received at the above stated time and date will be publicly opened and read. Any bid received after the above time will be returned unopened. The City of Hope reserves the right to reject any or all bids, to waive all formalities, and to award the bid deemed most advantageous to the City.

Miller Wins Over Houston, Season's First

By MIKE RATHET

Associated Press Sports Writer
For tough luck with an unusual twist, you'd have to go far to beat life with the hitless wonders as experienced by Bob Miller, the persistent right-hander kissed by Lady Luck, then smacked in the kisser by Dame Fortune.

Miller, who last year struggled through 12 consecutive defeats with the New York Mets before winning on the next-to-last day of the season, got the big smile from the Lady when he was traded to Los Angeles' National League pennant contenders.

Then the Dame shoved the Lady out of the picture.

Miller pitched 7 2-3 innings of scoreless ball against Houston in his first start and left with no score in the game. Wednesday night he made his second start and allowed only three hits as Los Angeles edged the Chicago Cubs 1-0 in 10 innings.

Miller left for a pinch hitter in the ninth inning.

The unusual also happened at San Francisco, where Colts engineered a triple steal for one run, then beat the Giants 2-1 in the 13th inning when catcher Jim Campbell hit a homer.

Milwaukee moved into first place with its sixth straight victory, 6-5 over Philadelphia. Cincinnati handed the winless New York Mets their eighth setback, 5-0 behind Jim O'Toole's five-hit pitching and St. Louis whipped Pittsburgh 7-3.

In the American League, Detroit took over the top spot by downing the New York Yankees 4-2, Baltimore edged Boston 5-4 and the Los Angeles Angels blanked Minnesota 4-0. The only other game scheduled — Washington at Cleveland — was rained out.

The Dodgers got to Dick Ellsworth for the game's lone run in the 10th on singles by Lee Walls, Frank Howard and Bill Skowron. Ellsworth 2-0 had pitched 18 2-3 scoreless innings before Skowron drove in his first NL run. The victory went to Ron Perranoski, working in relief of Miller.

The Colts pushed across their first run against Billy O'Dell when the Giants' starter went to a full windup with the bases loaded in the second inning. Howie Goss slid home ahead of Tom Haller's tag. Willie McCovey's ninth inning homer off Ken Johnson tied it before Campbell hit the game-winning off Don Larsen in the 13th.

The Braves used three Phillies' errors for three runs and held on as former teammate Wes Covington hit a solo homer and Don Demeter blasted a pair, each with one man on. Demeter's second homer brought on Claude Raymond, who preserved Lew Burdette's second victory without a loss. Paul Brown was the loser.

O'Toole got all the working room he needed when Johnny Edwards hit a grand slam homer off Mets starter Carl Willey in the first inning.

The Cardinals jolted loser Don Cardwell for four runs in the second inning on consecutive homers by Stan Musial and Carl Sawatski plus Curt Flood's single. Ray Washburn brought his record to 2-0 with a six-hitter.

Ouachita Loses Triangular Meet

ARKADELPHIA, Ark. (AP) — Ouachita College lost a triangular track meet and its star sprinter Wednesday when David Booth pulled up limping in the 220-yard dash.

The coach said he may be out for the year.

Arkansas Tech took the meet with 75½ points, 5½ ahead of Ouachita. Henderson was third with 18½.

Booth, high point man in the meet with 11½, won the 100-yard dash in 9.8, equalling the Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference record. He also took the 440-yard dash and relay team.

"David Stackhouse, team-mate of Booth's, was second high point man with 10½."

Death Under Investigation

CORNING, Ark. (AP) — The death of John Wayne Hudson, 25, who died Saturday night of a bullet wound in the head, is still being investigated, Clay County Sheriff Leon Underwood said Tuesday.

Underwood said he was told by Hudson's father — in law, Reuben Adair, that Hudson had been playing Russian roulette.

Hudson was taken to a clinic at Corning, then transferred to a Memphis hospital, where he was dead on arrival. Hudson and his wife, of the Dell area near Blytheville, had been visiting at the Adair home.

HIS HEART BELONGS TO FIRST WIFE

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen: For 35 years I was married to the finest woman that ever walked God's earth. We reared two children both of whom are married and have children of their own. But men stray and I was no exception.

In late middle life I became infatuated with another woman, divorced and after two years, married. It took that to prove that the only woman I could ever love was my first wife.

My second wife agreed that we'd better call it quits after a few months and we decided to divorce. The papers were filed and I got in touch with my first wife. She agreed to our remarrying, but only if the other woman understood. The latter convinced her it was the right thing for all three of us.

Wedding plans were made and everything set for my happy homecoming. Before this could take place my first wife passed away. I was devastated.

The divorce went through. I returned to the old home where I had been so happy, enjoy my job and am fairly content. My second wife has kept track of me and I've started seeing her again. She says she loves me and we should go back together. I can't forget the mother of my children and never will. What should I do? — Confused Widower

Dear Confused: If your second wife had the good sense to return you to the arms of your first one, remarry her. While your qualms of conscience about the first are understandable, you should also feel a twinge of remorse where the second is concerned. As you tell the story, she appears as self-sacrificing as the mother of your children. You, not they, were at fault. I hope you've learned your lesson.

Dodds, and Mrs. C. D. Dickinson attended an Easter Cantata in Lawsville at the Christian Church, where David Pearson, pastor, assisted in the tenor section.

Mrs. W. M. Blackhard, Ft. Smith, has been here visiting Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Park.

Mrs. Bill Lusk, Danny, and Ray, Little Rock, were the guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Garland O'Bryant, this past weekend.

Dear Helen: My steady wants to break up so he can go out with other girls. Yet he doesn't want me to date other boys. I haven't stopped crying since he told me for I love only him. He is my first and only boy friend. Do you think there is a chance for us to get back together? —Given-A-Run-Around

Dear Given: I print your letter because it illustrates the hazards for a girl of going steady. You, not your boy friend, should be the one to make the break. Even if it all but breaks your heart, write him off.

Crying won't bring him back. Your only hope is to play it cool. And, having learned your lesson, don't limit your social life to one boy again. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for my leaflet "On Being Popular."

Dear Helen: What do you think of a married woman who's been chasing a married man for seven years? He doesn't care the snap of his finger for her. She's the dog in the manger type, jealous of her own husband for whom she has no love. She has children and grandchildren but that doesn't stop her. She insists that it's no use trying to forget the married man for she plain can't. What,

Barnett Silent on Rights Proposal

JACKSON, Miss., (AP) — Gov. Ross Barnett declined comment today on a proposal by the federal Civil Rights Commission to withhold federal money to back civil rights demands.

Newsmen asked Barnett at his weekly press conference to comment on the proposal, what impact withholding funds would have on the state, and what he thought Congress would do about any move to implement the recommendation.

There is no doubt that withholding federal funds would wreck state government as it now exists. Latest available figures covering fiscal 1960-61 show total revenue of the state was $310.6 million, with $106.3 million of this coming from the federal government.

in your opinion, should she do? — Miss X

Dear Miss X: Who are you—the wife, sweetheart, or just a busybody? All I can say to the lady in question is let her conscience be her guide. If you're a busybody, for your own good, call a halt to interference unless those concerned seek your help. It's a thankless business. In the end, all four will turn on you.

Have you a problem? Perhaps Helen Worden Erskine can help you. Write her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

THE REASON

FOR THESE UNUSUALLY LOW PRICES!

During the last several months, we have enjoyed a most successful business. Doing the volume of business we did, naturally we accumulated hundreds of odds and ends and FLOOR SAMPLES! These Odds and Ends take up lots of valuable floor space. Merchandise bought at the recent Dallas Furniture Market is arriving daily . . . AND NO PLACE TO PUT IT! . . . so we feel it a good business to clean house dump odds and ends and floor samples regardless of loss! Also, we have one of the largest inventories in our history and need to reduce inventory . . . So the orders were given . . . rip, cut and slash prices right and left on EVERYTHING . . . get rid of the old stock . . . make way for the NEW! . . . It's Our Loss, but we don't mind if we get the job done. Many items actually FAR BELOW COST! DON'T DARE MISS IT!

Harris Wants Some Better Duck Hunting

By GORDON BROWN

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Oren Harris, D-Ark., struck a blow for better duck hunting in Arkansas recently with some subtle oratory that played on the senses of taste and smell.

And during his plea he got in a plug for Stuttgart, Ark.

"It is perhaps the greatest, or one of the greatest duck hunting areas of the United States," he said. "Stuttgart is probably the duck capital of the world."

The east central Arkansas city goes by the name of "Duck Hunter's Paradise and Rice Capital" and is the home of the world's championship duck calling contest.

"I hope to see the day," Harris told his colleagues in the House, "when the Arkansas duck limit is so high that I and the delegation from my state and our friends from my state can legally get enough wild ducks to bring them to Washington and have them served in the House restaurant to every member of this Congress."

There was no way of telling how many members were swayed by the thought of a lusciously cooked duck just out of the oven, but it only one changed his mind it was enough. The measure passed 122-121.

Consequently, the federal government appropriated $10 million

U of A Scholarship

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Socony Mobil Oil Co. has given $2,500 to the Arkansas Foundation of Associated Colleges. It was the company's sixth year in supporting the group which works to strengthen private higher education.

Takes Office Oath

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Leslie N. Shaw was sworn in Monday as acting postmaster of Los Angeles, first Negro to head postal operations in a major city.

to continue the purchase of northern "wetlands" as breeding grounds for ducks.

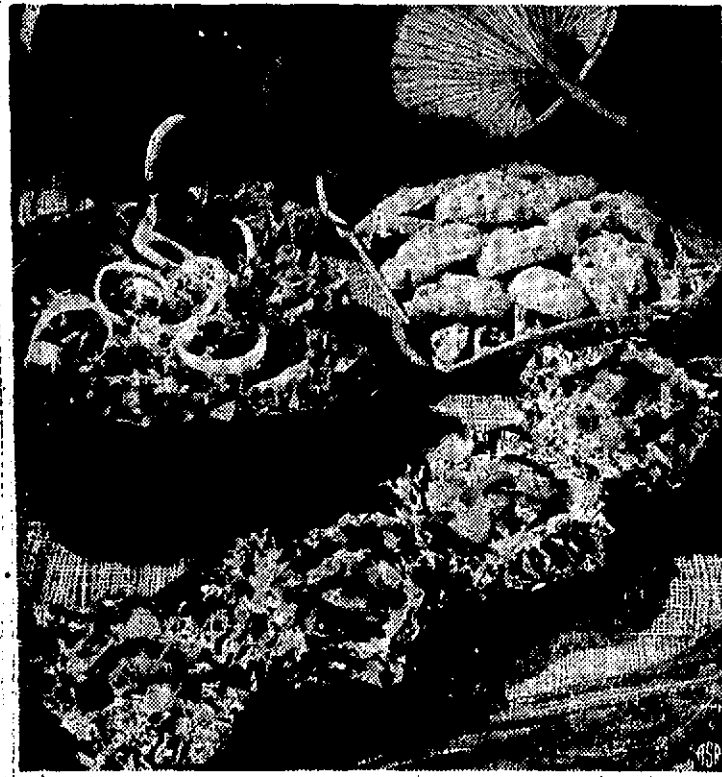

Not so many years ago, Harris said, ducks were plentiful and the legal hunting limit in Arkansas was 25 a day. Now the limit is two a day. The reason for the declining duck population is that the breeding ground for ducks, are being drained and turned into crop lands, he said.

The purpose of the appropriation is to preserve part of the breeding grounds in its natural state, he said.

A measure has been introduced by Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., to set up a uniform policy covering patent rights on inventions made through use of public funds, such as federal research grants.

The bill would require that the government take greater rights than a royalty-free license only if the invention falls within one of five categories, such as those affecting public safety, health and the like.

The Happiest Party Of All . . . The Hawaiian Luau

Every hostess enjoys planning a party around a special theme, and the luau is fast becoming a favorite. It's easy to create glamorous decorations, and island inspired costumes are casual and comfortable. Your menu might include two meat dishes such as crispy baked chicken and this Polynesian Bundle Bake, vegetable, green salad and hot breads. As a finale to your feast, spoon fresh-chilled fruit over lime sherbet and serve with a basket of Hawaiian Mood Cookies.

Polynesian Bundle Bake

3 cups hot cooked rice
1/4 cup margarine
1 cup cubed cooked ham
1 cup pineapple chunks

1 cup thinly sliced green pepper
1/2 cup barbecue sauce
1/2 cup aluminum foil

Combine rice and margarine; toss lightly. Add ham, pineapple, green pepper and barbecue sauce; mix well. Place individual servings of the rice mixture on squares of aluminum foil, bring corners together and twist. Grill or bake at 350°, 20 minutes. 6 servings.

Hawaiian Mood Cookies

1/2 cup margarine
1 3-oz. pkg. cream cheese
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup sugar
2 eggs
2 1/4 cups flour
2 teaspoons baking powder

1 teaspoon soda
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 can (8 3/4-oz.) crushed pineapple, well drained
1 cup well drained chopped maraschino cherries
1/2 cup chopped nuts

Blend together margarine, softened cream cheese and vanilla, add sugar, mix well. Add eggs, one at a time, beating well after each addition. Gradually add sifted dry ingredients; mix thoroughly. Stir in pineapple, cherries and nuts. Drop by rounded teaspoonfuls onto three accordeon pleated pans. Bake at 350°, 15 minutes. 4 dozen cookies.

(*) To make each pan, cut four 2-foot lengths of aluminum foil, accordeon pleat in 1-inch folds and place on a cookie sheet.

Wise Way To Cook Vegetables

This year when the fresh vegetables begin to flood the market, try this nutritious new way to cook them. Clean and slice vegetables to make 3 cups, or use 1 pound. Wash, drain but do not dry. Measure 1 tablespoon Mazola corn oil into a saucepan or skillet. Add vegetables and desired seasoning such as salt, peppers, herbs. Cook over medium to low heat 8 to 12 minutes or until just tender. The time varies with the type and tenderness of the vegetable. Shake or move pan several times to prevent vegetables sticking to pan. For starchy or stinky vegetables, add up to 3 tablespoons water.

THE STORY: Dawn Terrill has met one of the two men who ransacked the apartment of her mother, Francis Terrill, the day Dennis Hooper was murdered. Dennis was one of the men. Dawn was followed to her mother's apartment, but the man fled when the doorman tried to hold him.

on file they weren't too likely to have his photograph in their collection.

I was left alone once more with Frances and Dawn.

I glanced at Dawn who was sitting, tensely, on the edge of the couch. "You've got a run in your stocking," I said.

She glanced down quickly at a perfectly good pair of stockings. "How about going down to your room and changing them — and taking your time about it?" I suggested.

Frances turned sharply back from the sideboard. "I think it's time we all stopped treating Dawn like a child," she said.

"Okay, Frances, you asked for it," I said. I was fighting a kind of persistent anger. "Who paid the rent on that West Side apartment of yours—before you met Mett? Who provided you with $900 a month and paid Dawn's school bills?"

"None — of — your — business!" She spaced the words with a kind of fierce emphasis.

"I'm not trying to be a Peeping Tom," I said. "But, if we're looking for unknown enemies, a jealous ex-boy-friend is a possibility."

"There is no jealous ex-boy-friend," she said.

Every corridor you went down in this mess had a closed door at the end of it.

"Where and how did you meet Matt Higby?" I asked.

She hesitated. For a moment her eyes moved to Dawn, sitting rigidly on the edge of the couch.

"That's a fair question," Frances said, quietly. She walked past me to the windows which looked down on the East River. She was obviously trying to figure out the best way to tell me.

"Dawn was about to graduate, from school," she said, in an emotionless voice. "It means she would be coming home in about six weeks, to stay. The situation in which I'd been living had come to an end about two months before that time."

"The man had walked out on you?" Dawn asked. It was like a slap in the face.

Frances spun around from the window. "So you want to pass judgment, Dawn?" she flared.

Dawn didn't move. She just sat there, hands clasped together, staring straight ahead. "If you're going to tell, why not tell?"

"I'll tell what I choose to, Dawn, no more and no less. To begin to answer your question all I intend to say is that the situation in which I'd been living had come to an end. If it please you to think I was rejected, Dawn, help yourself!" She glanced at me. "I apologize for my saintly offspring, Corny. The fact is I was stone broke and with no place to turn. I had to find a way to take care of Dawn when she came home."

She drew a deep breath, squaring her shoulders. "One night, when I'd just about run out of money and time, I was having dinner in some sort of chop house down in the Village. I was loaded as usual. I wound up making some kind of row about something they served me. I think I threw a plate full of food at a waiter. They put me out of the restaurant by force."

"I guess I wound up leaning against the building, trying to get the fog out of my head. A man came up to me."

"Please don't misunderstand me," he said. "I just want to help. Do you think you could manage a couple of flights of stairs? I live just around the corner. Some black coffee might help—where people won't be staring at you."

"It was Matthew, of course."

A curious low warmth had crept into her voice. "I went with him to his place—up those interminble flights of stairs. Some kind of old lecher, I thought, living in a hole like this. Well, I was at the end of the line." She shook her head, and there was a small puzzled laugh like someone who still can't believe a miracle. "He made me coffee. I blacked out. I guess I wanted to. When I woke up it was gray-light outside the windows. Morning! He'd pulled some kind of cover up over me, I saw him, sitting by the window, looking down at the street where the first sounds of people coming alive were beginning. I lay there for a long time, pretending to be asleep. He was nice looking — clean looking. I saw that fantastic clothes closet — a couple of the sliding panels were open. I thought he must be an actor to have a wardrobe like that and yet live in a four-flight walkup."

Khrushchev Not Mellow Even at 69

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Premier Khrushchev is 69 today. He doesn't exactly mellow with age. But if he died tomorrow the West would have to say—but for the opposite reason — what Sir Winston Churchill said of Stalin's death in 1953: that it was a "milestone in Russian history."

Khrushchev is no Santa Claus. But he's a vast improvement over Stalin, a homicidal maniac. In short, there could be worse than Khrushchev as the West will realize with regret if his successor tries to turn the clock back.

Stalin, with his bad judgment, risked world wars with the Korean conflict and the Berlin blockade. Khrushchev took chances, but not like Stalin, with the Berlin wall and shipping missiles into Cuba.

Khrushchev has done four things above all since Stalin's death 10 years ago:

1. He has given the Russian people a far better life than they have had since the Bolshevik revolution in 1917. They have more freedom, although far from full freedom. The terroristic secret police system has been subordinated.

2. He has destroyed the Stalin myth by his 1956 denunciation of the old dictator. This not only had a liberating effect on Russian thinking but on communism in the satellites and around the world.

3. By showing more reasonableness than Stalin he has eased East-West tensions and made war less likely, not necessarily because he wouldn't try it if he thought he could win but because he realizes he might not.

4. By trying to avoid war, through a policy less riskily aggressive than Stalin's, Khrushchev has precipitated a split with his Red Chinese allies. Such a split seemed inevitable eventually. He hastened it.

While the freedom of the Russian people is not complete — a good recent example is Khrushchev's quarrels with writers and artists—they are becoming better educated every day. With the education comes thinking.

With that comes critical examination of the Russian Communist party's leadership policies at home and abroad. Because in time this will affect the policies, it will make the leadership more responsive to the people's will.

This could be reversed for a while—another Stalin would set it back—but the higher the intellectual level of the Russian people the more inevitable it seems the dictatorship in time must melt away.

This doesn't mean a sudden burgeoning of the free enterprise system in Russia. But it does mean that in time the Russian people will have some form of democratic socialism.

As for destroying the Stalin myth Khrushchev must have felt he had to do it for some obvious reasons.

Continuation of the myth would have strangled the initiative of Stalin's successors if they sought to meet new situations in new ways. In short, so long as the myth remained the Communist ideal, they would have had to follow in the Stalin footsteps.

A continuation of the Stalinist system of fear and repression would have had an equally stifling

Thinks Escapees Are Cornered

LONOKE, Ark. (AP) —Lonoke County Sheriff Warren Minton said Sunday he believed he had three jail escapees cornered in woods 10 miles north of Lonoke. He said they broke out of the Lonoke County Jail and he described them as extremely dangerous.

State Police reported early today that the men had not yet been captured.

The men were identified as Eric Lipton, 21; John Berlin Rhynes, 19; and Robert Meyers, 18, whose aliases were listed by State Police as Jamie, Nickolas and Bobby. They were being held for burglary, officers said.

The fugitives forced their way into several homes, Minton said, but harmed no one and apparently were not armed.

They escaped by tearing plumbing pipes in their cell and using them to pry bars off a window and then dropping to the ground on a rope made of blankets and sheets. They were on the fourth floor of the jail.

Two Iowa youths broke out of the jail Dec. 24 when they overpowered Minton, but were captured three hours later at Stuttgart.

effect on the development of the Russian people, depriving the government of their full energies and talents.

Stalin belonged to the past, which seemed long past about the time he died, a period of rigid discipline over ignorant masses to make them conform and serve at any price to them.

What Stalin wanted, Khrushchev wants: a Communist world. Their big difference is not in goals but in tactics. Stalin might have risked total destruction for total communism.

Khrushchev simply recognizes the reality of his nuclear age and is willing to take his time to get what Stalin wanted in a hurry. So he shifts, turns and thrusts but always, so far, short of war.

Stalin knew a powerful Red China would be a Russian rival some time. It explains his meager help to the Red Chinese for so long. But, because the rivalry was inevitable, so was a break between the two.

In both countries the force of nationalism was stronger than communism.

The Red Chinese have split with Khrushchev because, they complain, he's not tough enough with the West, which means taking more risks. But this complaint is probably more deeply rooted in rivalry and nationalism than in ideology or strategy.

But the split has cost Russia the position it enjoyed under Stalin: the domination and unity of world communism. There is a danger in this for the West.

It's this: that Khrushchev—out of self-consciousness about the Red Chinese accusations and complaint and out of a desire to restore Russian Communist supremacy—may some day feel impelled to risks his better judgment tells him not to try.

Sunny Strawberry Betty

Tart, sweet and rich is new "Sunny Strawberry Betty." This luscious dessert is easy-to-make with readily available frozen strawberries and round buttery crackers that add both extra good flavor and interesting texture. Mace adds spice and grated orange rind adds zing. You'll want to serve this dessert during every season of the year. It's nourishing enough for the heartiest appetite in the family, and, when topped with whipped cream and a nut half, it's a fancy dish for special company. Here's how to make it.

Sunny Strawberry Betty

45 Hi Ho crackers, about 1/2 cup melted butter or margarine, 1 1-lb. pkg. frozen, sliced strawberries, thawed, 1/4 cup sugar, 1/4 teaspoon mace, 1 teaspoon grated orange rind, Whipped cream, optional, Nut halves, optional

Break crackers into coarse crumbs; toss well with sugar, mace, orange rind and melted butter or margarine. Place about half the mixture evenly in the bottom of an 8-inch pie pan, or shallow casserole dish. Cover with berries. Spread remaining crumb mixture over top and drizzle with syrup from berries. Cover tightly with foil and bake in moderate oven (350° F.) for 15 minutes; remove foil and continue baking for another 15 minutes. Serve warm or at room temperature, with whipped cream and nut halves if desired. Add zest to the whipped cream with a good dash of aromatic bitters. Yield: 6 servings.

Grieving Father Ends Own Life

CHICAGO (AP)—James Lee, a grieving father who gave away nearly all his possessions to charitable institutions in memory of his 9-year-old daughter, is dead by his own hand.

Two police officers found Lee, 46, Tuesday night moments before they said he fatally shot himself in a tavern telephone booth.

In his pockets they found a child's crayon drawing, much folded and worn.

On it was written: "Please leave in my coat pocket. I want it to be buried with me."

The drawing was signed in childish print by his blonde daughter, Shirley Lee, who perished March 4 in a flash fire in their apartment. Her mother had died when she was 2.

Lee was so grief stricken then that he asked total strangers to attend the services so Shirley would have "a nice funeral." He said he had no family to attend.

Shortly after Shirley's funeral, Lee gave his 10-apartment building, where the fire occurred, and a two-flat building to the Lutheran Church of St. Philip, which Shirley attended. Several plaques in her memory were placed in the church and her school.

Before Lee died in a North Side tavern he called the Chicago Daily News and told William F. Rooney, assistant city editor, he had sent

Get Scholarships

BATESVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Six high school seniors were named Tuesday by Arkansas College to get Wooten Anderson scholarships for study at the college next fall. They are Billy Wherry, Maera Farnham of Memphis, Donald Carnahan and Ronald Watts of Waldron, Mary Elizabeth Black of Norman and Sheila Ezelle of Dumas. Wherry will get a $3,000 scholarship. The others get $2,000 scholarships.

the newspaper a Manila envelope. Mooney said he stalled Lee while a reporter asked police to trace the call.

As Mooney listened the envelope arrived. Its contents included a note Lee said he wrote while visiting Shirley's grave late Monday night.

"Strange," it said, "but I am very calm here on the edge of eternity. I want only to get it over and done with."

"If I don't finish this up I'll be a bum," Mooney said. Lee told him shortly before the shot was fired.

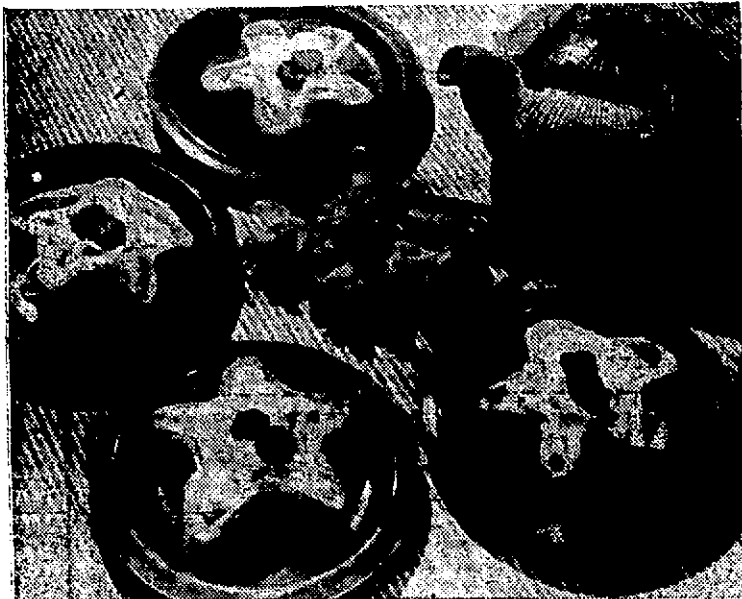

Mooney said he heard a scuffling sound (the police trying to get into the telephone booth) and then he heard a shot.

Mooney said Lee, in instructions included in the package, asked to be buried next to Shirley in St. Lucas Cemetery.

Lee built his modest wealth first in a trucking business he started with a single truck. After his wife died he shifted to building investment and management so he could be close to his daughter.

Berry Tarts

A Pretty And Delicious Dessert

Bake a Berry Tart — It's so easy with convenient self-rising flour, fresh strawberries and a few other ingredients. The little Berry Tarts will be a picture-pretty dessert for all your spring and summertime serving.

Bake the tart shells from self-rising flour that has salt and leavening added to give you tender, slightly puffy pastry. The filling is a quick and easy one made of cream cheese, whipping cream and sliced strawberries. Substitute another fresh fruit, if you like.

As a nutrition conscious meal planner, you'll be pleased to have a dessert idea like Berry Tarts. Enriched self-rising flour will provide B-vitamins, iron and calcium in the pastry. Try enriched self-rising flour in all your home baking — for both nutritional benefits and preparation convenience.

BERRY TARTS

3 cups sifted enriched self-rising flour 3 to 5 tablespoons cold water
1/2 cup shortening Cream Filling

Cut or rub shortening into flour until mixture is crumbly. Sprinkle with water, mixing lightly until dough begins to stick together. Turn out on large sheet of lightly-floured heavy duty aluminum foil. Press dough together. Roll out to 1/4-inch thickness. Cut six 5-inch circles, cutting dough and foil together. Prick pastry circles gently with fork to avoid piercing foil. Lift circles and shape dough and foil together, fluting edge to form tart shells. Place on baking sheet. Bake in hot oven (450° F.) 10 to 12 minutes. Cool. Remove foil and fill tart shells with Cream Filling.

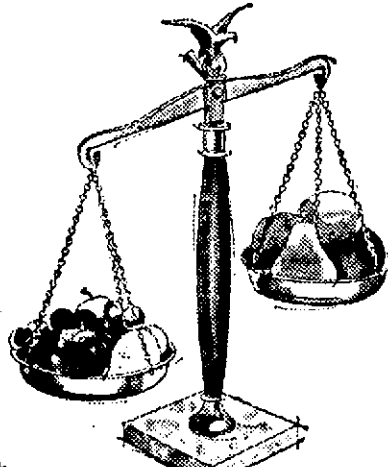

Cream Filling
8-ounce package cream cheese 1/2 teaspoon vanilla extract
2 tablespoons milk 1 cup whipping cream, whipped
2 tablespoons sugar 1 cup sliced strawberries

Soften cream cheese. Add milk, sugar and vanilla extract, beating until smooth and well blended. Whip cream and fold in cream cheese mixture. Add strawberries. Spoon into cooled tart shells. Makes 6 tarts.

The Perfect "Breads" For A "Coffee"

Pineapple-Banana Muffins are a delicious "Kaffee Klatch" bread. Made quickly with a biscuit mix the combination of pineapple and banana served with steaming hot coffee is bound to provoke happy and hearty conversation.

Pineapple-Banana Muffins
1 can (8 3/4 or 9 oz.) Dole Crushed Pineapple 1/4 cup milk
2 bananas 2 cups biscuit mix
1/2 cup sugar 1 teaspoon salt
1 egg

Reserve 2 tablespoons syrup from pineapple for glaze. Mash the bananas. Mix well the sugar, egg and milk. Add Grapenuts undrained pineapple, banana, biscuit mix and salt. Stir until blended but not smooth, about 25 strokes. Fill muffin tins to about 3/4 inch from top. Bake 20 minutes in preheated 425° oven. Makes 6 muffins using 3 3/4-inch tins—or 12, using 2 1/4-inch tins. Or, use 3 1/2-inch pans to make 3 loaves, but increase baking time to 30 minutes.

For glaze: Blend 1 cup powdered sugar, unsifted and 2 tablespoons syrup from pineapple while muffins bake. While still hot, loosen muffins with small knife and dip into glaze top-side down. Invert and cool on rack.

Only Top Value Stamps guarantees every gift 2 WAYS

Livestock Disease Meet at Prescott

A discussion of livestock and livestock diseases will be conducted at Prescott Tuesday, April 23, sponsored by the Nashville Production Credit Association.

"Livestock diseases rob farmers and ranchers of millions of dollars annually. Often, these diseases could have been prevented and eradicated with a common knowledge of the cause and symptoms. We want farmers and ranchers to get together to discuss livestock diseases, to be better equipped to combat them in the future," said Manager Edward Sharp of the PCA here.

The meeting will begin at 7:30 p.m. in the elementary school cafeteria at Prescott.

Dr. Ray Cook and Sheldon Davis of the American Cyanamid Company will be on the program. Marvin Vines, KAAV radio farm director will be master of ceremonies.

The discussion will also include anaplasmosis and leptospirosis.

The program will include:

Presiding and Purpose — Jim Wingfield, President of the Nevada County Cattlemen's Association.

Livestock Situation — Adrian

Arkansan Held in Slaying

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP) — Detectives said at Pittsburgh Tuesday that an Arkansas man and a California woman were being held in connection with the slaying of a businessman near Ventura, Calif.

James V. Destout, chief of detectives, said Clarence E. Barker, 40, of Texarkana, Ark., and Rosalee Eaton, 19, of San Francisco were being held.

They implicated themselves in the death of Richard D. McCutcheon, 28, of North Bend, Ore., who was slugged and dumped into the Pacific Ocean near Ventura.

Destout said detectives found

Final Rites for Clarksville Man

CLARKSVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Dr. George Reginald Siegel, 61, one of this city's leading citizens, will be buried in Holy Redeemer Cemetery at Clarksville Tuesday.

He died Sunday night in a Clarksville hospital.

Siegel had been mayor of Clarksville for three terms — the last one in 1958-60. He was a member of the state Cancer Commission, president of the Johnson County Medical Society, a member of the city council.

Funeral will be at 10 a.m. Tuesday in Holy Redeemer Church. Survivors include Harold Siegel of Wichita, Kan., and Mrs. Frank Genocchio of Santa Clara, Calif.

Jonesboro Takes Hospital Bids

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP) — Bids will be opened next week on construction of the first unit of an eight-story addition to St. Bernard's Hospital in Jonesboro, administrator John W. Foley announced Tuesday.

The 200-bed addition would increase the hospital's capacity to 400 beds.

Construction on the first four stories is scheduled to begin in 30 days and be completed in 1964. A $1 million annex to the hospital was opened last year and a 25-bed chronic convalescent unit was opened Monday.

Power Failure

EL DORADO, Ark. (AP) — El Dorado police said Tuesday that someone—they don't know who—ran into a power pole, causing power failures of from 20 to 45 minutes in parts of El Dorado and Junction City.

Ocdell Pollard, a Searcy attorney, announced that Sen. Thurston B. Morton, R-Ky., will be keynote speaker at the dinner.

Morton, who was elected to the Senate in 1956, is on the Senate Finance Committee and the Senate Commerce Committee. He has attacked the administration on its handling of the Cuban situation and various other national topics.

JFK Critic to Speak to GOPs

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Republican Party will have one of the leading critics of the Kennedy Administration as principal speaker for a $25-a-plate fund raising dinner in Little Rock May 25.

Vacation Breakfast Means Brunch!

The May Day Brunch—sliced oranges, butter crisped shredded wheat, creamed beef and sliced tomatoes, coffee or milk.

When something happens to jolt children out of their normal routine of life, some change seems to occur in their eating habits. This was one of the conclusions made in a nationwide study of influences and motives that determine cereal-eating habits of children, 8 through 17 years old. It is mother who must watch. Medical and nutrition authorities have formulated a basic breakfast pattern consisting of fruit, cereal, milk, bread and butter. This meal can be served to an early riser because it provides one-fourth of the day's food requirement for most people; it can be supplemented with other foods, and served to late morning risers and called Brunch. Here is a well-liked cereal main dish:

Toasted Shredded Wheat Biscuits with Creamed Beef

Shredded wheat, 6 oblong biscuits or 6 round biscuits; or 2½ cups spoon-size biscuits, 2½ cups bite-size biscuits 6 thin sliced fresh tomatoes

1 jar (4-5 ounce) dried, sliced beef, cut ¼ cup sliced onion 1 tablespoon butter or margarine 3 tablespoons flour 2½ cups nonfat milk Dash of pepper

Dot shredded wheat with butter and place with tomato slices on broiler rack. Broil about 3 inches from heat source until biscuits are toasted and tomatoes heated, 2 to 3 minutes. Keep warm. Saute onion in butter or margarine until onion is soft. Sprinkle flour over onion and mix well. Stir in milk and pepper. Cook slowly, stirring constantly, until thickened. Stir in dried beef (if beef is very salty, rinse under hot water and drain); heat. Top shredded wheat with tomato slices and creamed beef. Yield: 6 servings.

For Dinner Tonight A "Souper" Spoonbread

Got Easter ham leftover? The "remnants" of the ham can be made into simply wonderful lunch or supper dishes. Grind it, chop it, dice or slice it... but do use every last smidgen of it... for ham makes luscious skillet and casserole dishes.

One very tempting dish you can prepare is this elegant Ham Spoonbread (no one will guess you're making use of leftovers). To help you create this delectable treat rely on canned condensed cream of mushroom soup.

Ham Spoonbread

1 can (10½ ounces) condensed cream of mushroom soup ½ cup milk ½ cup yellow cornmeal

1 cup finely ground cooked ham cut butter or margarine ½ eggs, separated ¼ teaspoon baking powder

In saucepan, stir soup until smooth; gradually blend in milk. Bring to boil, stirring. Reduce heat, gradually add cornmeal stirring until just thickened. Remove from heat; stir in ham and butter. Beat egg yolks until thick; stir in a few tablespoons remaining soup. Sprinkle baking powder over egg whites. Beat until stiff but glossy. Fold whites into soup mixture. Pour into 1½-quart casserole. Bake at 350°F. for 45 minutes. Serve with maple syrup. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Rules JP Only Township Officer

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Chancellor Guy E. Williams ruled Monday that a Justice of the Peace is a township officer and declined to remove a Johnson County wolf trapper from his job with the state Game and Fish Commission.

Alfred Hill, a farmer from Bass, filed suit last October alleging that O. R. Willis, 61, who has been employed as a trapper since July 1, 1949, could not legally hold the job.

Willis' brother, John, is a JP at Hagarville, about 11 miles north-east of Clarksville.

A provision in Amendment 33 of the state constitution says the commission may not employ any one who is related to any of the commissioners or any other state officer within the third degree of relationship by blood or marriage.

Sgt. York Is Critical

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Sgt. Alvin C. York, 75, Medal of Honor winner in World War I, remains in critical condition at a hospital, but authorities said Monday night he had showed some improvement during the previous 24 hours.

York's blood circulation has returned to normal, and doctors have determined also that he did not suffer a heart attack last week.

However, a hospital spokesman

Searcy Man Named by School Group

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The superintendent of schools at Searcy, James Ahlf, has been elected vice president - president elect of the Arkansas Education Association.

Ahlf will assume the president's office in June of 1964.

Also elected to office were Mrs. Leo Bartholomew of Trumann and Chrystobel Pullen of Glenwood.

Mrs. Bartholomew was elected board member at large. Chrystobel Pullen was elected board member representing Clark, Nevada and Pike counties.

Miss Amy Jean Carter of Henderson State Teachers College will succeed Hays Gibson of Conway as president of the association next June. She will be the fourth woman to hold the post in the AEA's 94 year history.

New officers will assume their posts June 1.

Going to Sweden

BENTON, Ark. (AP)—Patricia Ann Dodgen of Collegeville in Saline County will fly to Sweden April 22 as an International Farm Youth Exchange delegate. Miss Dodgen is a University of Arkansas graduate. She will return to the United States Nov. 18.

He said he may have a blood clot in one of his lungs and could develop pneumonia.

Grandmother's Brown Sugar Beans

You hardly need a recipe for making Brown Sugar Beans. Like your grandmother, you'll cook up a good-sized batch of Idaho's famous dried Great Northern (large white) beans to the almost-tender stage. Then it's one layer of beans about an inch deep in a shallow baking pan or casserole, a liberal sprinkling of brown sugar—the dark variety for deeper flavor, a pinch or three of dry mustard; a good dash of salt and of coarse-ground black pepper, quartered bacon slices laid hit and miss over the top, the bean liquid added. The whole to bake in a 350 degree F. (moderate) oven about an hour. For extra goodness, just before serving sprinkle the bacon with brown sugar and toast gently under the broiler until the sugar is bubbly and the bacon lightly browned. M-m-m, good!

This is a treat that goes well with any meat, especially those from the barbecue grill. With a more generous use of bacon atop, it can serve as a hearty and economical main course dish in itself. Perfect partners are coleslaw or sliced tomatoes, corn sticks or hot brown bread slices, with fresh fruit or chilled custards and cookies for dessert. These beans are good warmed over and may even be frozen for future use. But then, you had better not count on leftovers!

If you haven't tried the "large white" Idaho-grown Great Northern variety of beans, you have a taste-treat in store. Full of fine flavor, these beans may be used in every recipe calling for their "small white" cousins. Versatile too, they turn into many tempting dishes—dips, soups, salads, casseroles, croquettes.

Uncertainty About Talks of Importance

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—Some of the most important talks in the world are like a man feeling his way in a smoke-filled room. There's an uncertainty about them.

For years the United States has been talking with the Russians about agreeing to a ban on nuclear tests. No agreement is visible. If it should come there would be a new uncertainty instantly. Would the Senate approve?

If not, then all the conversations would have been nonsense. The Senate's final say on this is hardly mentioned in this period when the first order of business is to try to get a Russian agreement.

Next, the United States has been busy-busy with its 14 Atlantic allies to set up a NATO nuclear force. From a political standpoint this may have some value.

It might give the allies a greater sense of participation in their own destiny by equipping them with nuclear weapons at a time when the United States and Russia alone are the nuclear giants.

If, through such a sense of participation the allies developed a closer feeling of unity, the idea of a NATO nuclear force might be worthwhile. And that does seem to be about all there is to the idea.

If that's all it is—the Kennedy administration has been far from clear on any of this—the whole business could turn out to be little more than a gimmick for this reason:

Control of American nuclear weapons—the ability and decision to fire them—must remain in American hands, meaning the President's. That's exactly how it is now.

Before the idea could go further—letting allies equipped with American nuclear weapons make their own decisions about using them—Congress would have to change the law.

If you were one of the European allies—and the United States alone had control of the nuclear weapons which are the defense of Europe—you might be troubled by this idea, as some Europeans are:

Suppose in a European crisis with Russia the United States refused to get into a nuclear war if it meant backing up its allies. You might feel, as President de Gaulle of France does, that you'd want your own nuclear weapons.

But if every country had its own stockpile of nuclear bombs, in or out of the alliance, the chance of nuclear war, by accident or design, would be increased.

But he didn't say Lukens would raise prices. Nobody in the industry said such a thing. Everybody waited to see what Kennedy did to Charley.

Kennedy, after keeping the industry waiting almost two days, was gentler than in 1962. He said it was all right for the steelmakers to raise prices on just some items—a selective list—although he didn't want a general increase.

But what he wants to see and what he can do about it are different things.

He doesn't have a law to stop a selective increase now or a general increase later. And it will be a miracle of reticence if the steelmakers, starting with a selective price boost, don't in time make it general. It's like one thing leading to another.

Since Wheeling, playing Charley didn't get its neck chopped off, it seemed safe to go outdoors. And Sunday Lukens announced it would raise prices on a selective list of steel items.

If the other steel firms follow suit, the Steelworkers' Union, which did without a direct pay increase last year in order to comply with Kennedy's request to hold the price-wage line, looks like a lead pipe cinch to demand higher wages.

This then may set off one of those inflation spirals, since the

Wants PSC Okay to a Dividend

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—General Waterworks Corp. asked the Public Service Commission today for authority to make a six per cent stock dividend this year.

The company proposed to issue three shares of common stock with an estimated value of $27 a share for each 100 shares of outstanding stock on May 1 and Nov. 1. It said it would make an equitable cash payment to persons holding shares in less than 100 multiples.

General also asked approval of an employee stock purchase plan and sought permission to issue 75,000 shares of common stock under the plan.

General operates water companies in Pine Bluff, Russellville and five other Arkansas municipalities.

It said it had 1,369,457 shares outstanding and would need to issue 83,600 to pay the dividend. The Public Service Commission steel industry sets the pace for other industries.

Say Veto Slowed European Unity

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Stafford E. D. Barff, British consul at St. Louis, told a Little Rock civic club Tuesday that France's veto of British entry into the Common Market has almost halted moves toward European unity.

The veto, by French President Charles de Gaulle, has created distrust among Europeans and an insoluble situation as it now stands, Barff said.

He said the veto was a political move. British was close to the United States, and De Gaulle wanted Europe to be a third force standing between the U.S. and Russia, Barff said.

He said such a "third force" idea was unworkable.

Barff has been head of the consulate at St. Louis five months.

will hold a hearing at 10:30 a.m. Thursday on the re-financing application of General Telephone Co. of the Southwest.

General Telephone is seeking authority to issue $10 million in bonds, sell 350,000 shares of preferred stock and 128,000 shares of common stock and borrow $5.5 million from banks.

Manly Bent for Menus

In grandfather's day cooking was done indoors and it was, indeed, grandmother's domain. Now, that cookery has moved outside it is the man of the house who wears the apron.

Coupled with his skill with the grill is the manly bent for practical foods and a menu which works to perfection. First choice is steak, baked potatoes and vegetables. For the feature bread—a must—and the dessert he calls on the baker.

From this point our backyard chef varies the menu and avoids being called Mr. "one-dish." The point of departure this time features Parmesan Onion Toasties, fashioned from a seedy spread and Brown 'n Serve French bread. These are threaded on giant skewers, then rotated and toasted to perfection at the cooler edge of the grill.

Parmesan-Onion Toasties
2 (5-ounce) loaves Brown 'n Serve French bread
1/2 cup soft butter or margarine
1/2 cup mayonnaise or salad dressing
1/4 cup grated Parmesan cheese
2 tablespoons finely chopped onion
1/4 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
Dash, paprika

Cut each loaf of bread diagonally, almost through to bottom crust, into 12 equal-sized slices. Combine butter, mayonnaise, cheese, onion, Worcestershire sauce and paprika. Spread 1 1/2 teaspoons cheese-onion mixture between each slice of bread. String loaves on a long, sharp-pointed skewer, inserting the skewer through the center of each one. Heat over hot coals, turning to brown bread on all sides. Yield: 8-8 servings.

U.S. Afraid of Action by Exiles

EDITOR'S NOTE — The U.S. ban on Cuban exile raids on Castro's Cuba has created deep disillusionment among the exile communities in Florida and posed a potential embarrassment for the United States. Third of four special articles.

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—No bread is more bitter than the bread eaten in exile.

Because of that, grave concern is being expressed today in Miami at the possibility that current U.S. policy toward Cuba may backfire. The result, say some careful students of the situation, could be a black eye for Uncle Sam and painful embarrassment before Latin America and the world.

Miami has at least 150,000 Cuban refugees. Only a tiny percentage of these is actively engaged in harassing the Cuban Communist regime or attempting to fight it in various ways. But practically every adult Cuban in exile fervently expresses the hope that Fidel Castro will be overthrown.

Many Cuban refugees show signs now of going through an agony of dying hope, in the wake of U.S. crackdowns on raids against Cuba or ostensible supply missions to bolster underground anti-Castro fighters on the island.

Some will admit the armed attacks by exiles against the Castro regime—even the attack on a Soviet cargo ship March 18—were mere pinpricks against an entrenched police state power. Many are willing to concede President Kennedy had good reasons for forbidding such attacks, for being concerned about the threat of a monumental Soviet-American crisis which might result from them.

The U.S. government says the attacks in reality provide Castro with additional excuses to crack down against internal Cuban resistance. Some Cuban exiles will admit even that may be true.

But, up to a few weeks ago, at least, something was going on, they say—sudden raids against vastly superior forces; and gallantry of the David against the Goliath—the gestures of defiance. It was a way of letting off steam.

Then the United States intervened. The exiles' steam was bottled up.

"There are too many disillusionments," said an anguished young Cuban. "The United States was with us and now it is against us. We can fight Castro or even the Russians in Cuba, but how can we fight them and the United States and Britain, too?"

Against such sentiments, arguments, no matter how logical, make little impression. Resentment finds its reflection, too, in growing resistance to the U.S. program to resettle exiles in other areas of the United States and ease the burden on Miami. Not one of the scores of exiles I have talked to said he would agree, now, to be resettled.

How many exiles are sheltered in Miami today?

Business Policy Shift Not Likely

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—Higher stock prices and weakness in bonds—greater industrial production and rising consumer, business and government spending—more imports and an uncertain future for U.S. exports to Western Europe—all revive talk of how long interest rates can continue their long spell of stability.

That is, can you go on borrowing at present rates or getting the same return on your savings?

The money managers say that the present official policy isn't about to change. Neither the prospect of increased economic activity, nor a growing federal deficit, nor the stubborn shortfall in U.S. international financial dealings foreshadows a shift in policy — they say.

Doubters note that fiscal affairs can change quickly. Money managers don't telegraph their punches.

And today with all the talk of the possibility of rising prices and business expansion, and of business and government need for more borrowing, money management may be even more difficult on an art than it has been in the last year or so.

The argument for continuing stability is that the amount of funds available for investment is large and grows steadily as pension funds and various forms of saving are swelled. This acts as a brake on rising interest rates on long-term debt.

The government policy on short-term rates is to keep them high enough to prevent the cashing in of foreign-owned short-term assets.

On the rolls of the refugee center, about 162,000 have been registered since the relief program began in January, 1961. Many were in Miami before then, and many others never had to register because they were self-sustaining.

Since that time, 57,000 have been resettled in other areas. Miami officials say it is safe to estimate that the minimum number of exiles remaining in the city is 150,000 and that probably the figure is much higher.

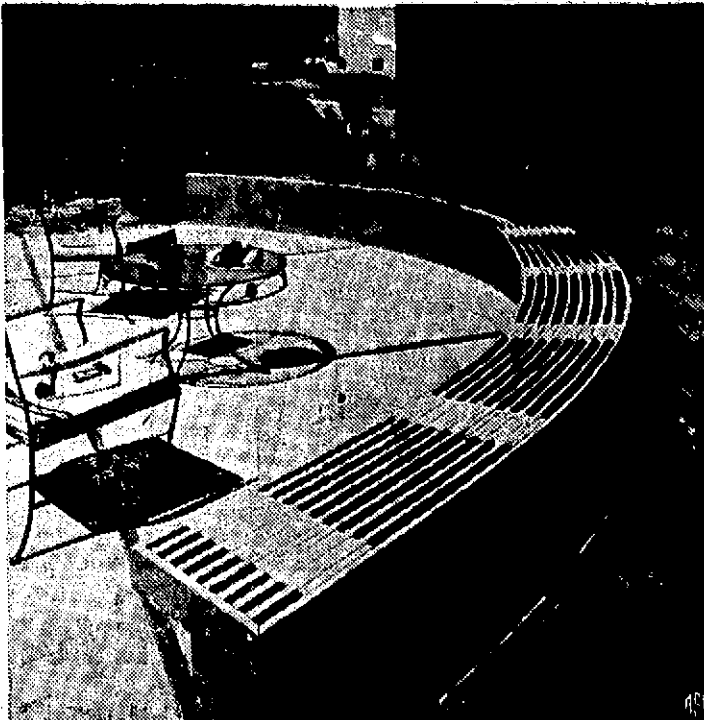

Easily three-quarters of the Cubans in Miami come from white collar, professional, and semi-professional classes, jealous of their self-respect and by and large a law-abiding group, Miami officials say. Almost any Cuban one talks with will say he did not come to Miami as an immigrant, but intended to go back home as soon as the homeland was free.

"Why do we stay here?" a Cuban lawyer asked me. "It is close to home. The climate is like ours. Here are our friends, relatives. We know each other. Elsewhere we would be lost, without any sense of security."

"We are grateful because the United States was the only country which opened its arms and helped us. But we still want to go back home and we want to fight our own fight."

Plan An Outdoor Living Room

Curved redwood bench tops a retaining wall to give this round patio even greater utility for suburban entertaining. Bench is made by gently bending one by sixes and nailing them to spacing blocks. Retaining wall is also redwood, which is ideal for the purpose because it resists rotting and termite attack. Redwood's natural preservatives do not harm new plantings, as do some chemicals used to impregnate non-durable woods.

You can increase greatly the utility of your yard for dining and entertaining by paving part of it or installing a deck. With a patio or deck, you can enjoy outdoor living earlier in the spring, later in the fall, and sooner after rainfall. It adds living space to your home at a fraction of the cost of a new room.

Your "outdoor living room" can have efficient built-in furniture as well as your family room inside. Combine the railing of your deck with a redwood bench to provide comfortable permanent seating for guests; or, as in the picture above, top a retaining wall with a bench, to seat your guests in one of the most pleasant parts of the garden: near your plantings.

When planning your outdoor living room, consider its "floor" as carefully as you would a new rug for your parlor. You might find redwood decking more comfortable to bare feet and functional than concrete pavement—and more economical; or you might wish to combine decking with concrete, brick, or flagstone paving.

The "walls" of your outdoor living room are also important. There are many ways of adding individuality to the redwood fence which forms a backdrop for all your outdoor activities. For instance, try using a finish grade of lumber instead of the usual lower grades—the handsome difference in appearance will be worth much more than the slight difference in price.

Try Tasty Lunchbox Turnovers

In these delicious Lunchbox Turnovers enriched self-rising flour and corn meal team up to make a golden pastry crust. This tender crust covers a tasty ground ham, pickle relish and onion filling. Your pastry will be extra tender and light due to the leavening in the self-rising flour and corn meal. It will be extra nutritious as well for both these products supply calcium, iron and three essential B-vitamins.

Lunchbox Turnovers can provide two meals for you in one "sitting." Serve them piping hot for dinner one night with a cheese sauce and then pack the leftovers along with a thermos of vegetable soup, crisp relishes and a fresh pear in the kid's lunchbox. Try the tender pastry with other favorite fillings, too, for variety.

LUNCHBOX TURNOVERS

$\frac{3}{4}$  cup enriched self-rising corn meal  $\frac{1}{4}$  cup shortening
2 cups sifted enriched self-rising flour  $\frac{1}{4}$  cup cold water

Combine corn meal and flour. Cut or rub in shortening until mixture is crumbly. Add water, mixing gently until dough begins to stick together. Divide dough into two equal portions. Turn out on piece of waxed paper and press dough together. Wrap in waxed paper and refrigerate while preparing Ham Filling.

Ham Filling
2 cups ground cooked ham  $\frac{1}{2}$  cup mayonnaise or salad dressing
 $\frac{1}{2}$  cup pickle relish 2 tablespoons chopped onion

Combine ham, mayonnaise or salad dressing, onion and pickle relish. Roll out each portion of dough to circle  $\frac{1}{4}$ -inch thick. Cut each portion into six  $4\frac{1}{2}$  or 5-inch rounds. Place a spoonful of Ham Filling on half of each round. Fold over other half to cover filling. Press edges together to seal. Bake on ungreased baking sheet in hot oven (425°F.) about 15 minutes. Makes 12 turnovers.

sets and the flight of those funds overseas where yields would be higher. The rise in imports and threats to exports make the money managers all the more anxious to maintain these interest rates. Advocates of easier credit and lower interest rates to speed economic growth so far have come up against this stone wall.

With the federal deficit large and promising to increase, the outflow of dollars and gold could increase if the money managers let interest rates here fall, the proponents of continuing the present policy argue.

Increasing business activity, and the inflationary psychology that has gripped the stock market during the first uncertain days of the steel price rise attempt, could bring a demand for borrowed long-term funds in time that would strengthen rates. At the moment stocks look more attractive and government bond prices are weakening—meaning their yield is rising.

But the money managers are expected to try to hold the line on that. They presumably want long-term credit to remain available and relatively easy to encourage further growth in an economy that is still far from taking off on another boom. If they let government bond interest rates rise, money would flow there rather into mortgages and corporate bonds and other securities and thus brake the hoped-for growth.

These, the bankers say, are the reasons the money managers will keep credit and rates about where they can. A change in public psychology could make this policy hard to maintain—or a change in political thinking in Washington.

Pest Control Salesmen Win

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Arkansas Supreme Court ruled Monday that two former employees of the Orkin Exterminating Co., could solicit pest control business within a five-mile radius of Arkadelphia and Malvern.

But the Supreme Court upheld the portions of a Garland Chancery Court order prohibiting Jimmy Golden and Daniel C. Dykes for seeking business within the corporate limits of the two cities and within Hot Springs and a five-mile radius of there.

Orkin filed suit against the men after Golden went to work for Arab Termite and Pest Control Co., of Hot Springs. Dykes was manager of the Arab firm.

The Supreme Court agreed with the chancery court that a contract signed by the men when they took employment with Orkin prohibited them from competing with Orkin for a two-year period.

Porkers Win Track Meet With Tulsa

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—Tulsa took more first places, but Arkansas' depth in the distance events carried the Razorbacks to a 74-67 victory in a dual track meet Tuesday at Tulsa.

Jim Mace scored 14½ points for Arkansas, winning the broad jump and the hop, step and jump. He was second in high hurdles and ran a leg on the winning mile relay team.

Jeff Pride won the mile run for Arkansas in 4:28.7, with John Deardorff second and Wayne Trsch third—all for Arkansas. Ken Blankenship of Arkansas won the 440-yard dash in 50.8 seconds with teammate Dave Crawford second.

Hayden Hicks, Phil Kolb and Glenn Babb, all of Arkansas, finished 1-2-3 in the 880-yard run, with Hicks covering the distance in 1:56.3.

Mace, Babb, Hicks and Crawford won the mile relay in 3:22.3. Dave Smoot, Dick Perry and Jim Meyer, all Razorbacks, were 1-2-3 in the pole vault, with Smoot soaring 13-6.

Don Schilling was first in the discus with a throw of 151 feet. Mace won the broad jump with a lead of 22-4½ and the hop, step and jump with 44-3.

Fine Arts Center

BENTONVILLE, Ark. (AP)—Col. R. M. Anderson, vice president of the Bentonville Chamber of Commerce, says a nearby site has been chosen for the Bella Vista Fine Arts Center open air theater. The center would include an orchestra shell and would seat 2,000, and could be expanded to seat 15,000, he said. Construction will begin when engineering plans are completed.

What's in a Bowl of Cereal and Milk?

The heart of an adequate breakfast is in a cereal and milk serving. The Iowa Breakfast Studies are the scientific proof back of this statement. Before the experiments known as the Iowa Breakfast Studies, medical, nutrition, and public health authorities had decided opinions that the neglect of the morning meal was harmful to the health of the nation. But carefully controlled studies reported in scientific journals confirming their opinions did not exist. The preliminary experiment in the Iowa Breakfast Studies indicated that eating breakfast made a definite contribution to efficiency in the late morning hours. During the series of scientific studies that followed, an adequate breakfast, designated as a basic breakfast was established.

The basic breakfast is defined as one which provides one-fourth the total daily caloric requirement and one-fourth the total daily protein allowance. The basic CEREAL AND MILK breakfast pattern consisted of fruit or juice, cereal, milk, enriched toast and butter in sufficient quantities to supply one-fourth of the total daily caloric requirement and one-fourth the total daily protein allowance. The remarkable manner in which breakfast cereal and milk supplement each other makes this serving contribute virtually every important nutrient except vitamin C (contributed in the pattern by citrus fruit or juices).

Here is the meal in the adequate breakfast pictured above: Half grapefruit, strawberry garnish; rolled wheat cereal with milk and brown sugar; raisin bread and butter; milk as a beverage. Flavor and fragrance are part of this breakfast pattern, too!
